

SUPPORTING YOUR TEEN UPON RESULTS RELEASE

Tips and Resources for Parents

PROVIDING SOCIAL AND EMOTIONAL SUPPORT

- Celebrate your teen's efforts.
- Acknowledge your teen's emotions. Help them manage their expectations and emotions, especially if they have overly high expectations or negative emotions.
- Reassure your teen that the exam results do not determine how much they are worth, or how successful they will be in the future.
- Look out for out-of-character behaviours in your teen. Should these signs of distress persist, you should seek help and advice from a health professional. You may also wish to inform your teen's new school on their well-being so that appropriate support can be given e.g. monitoring by the teaching staff or school counsellor.

PROVIDING EDUCATION AND CAREER GUIDANCE

- Encourage your teen to explore possible education pathways using resources like
 - MySkillsFuture (<https://go.gov.sg/MySFSec>),
 - What's Next (<https://go.gov.sg/whats-next>),and discuss their thoughts with you.
- Engage your teen in conversations on their interests and support them in pursuing their diverse aspirations.
- Further tips for parents can be found in the Education & Career Guidance Handbook for Parents (<https://go.gov.sg/ecgparentguide>).

- Check out articles from Schoolbag (<https://www.schoolbag.edu.sg>) for perspectives from other parents, on how they guided their teens, e.g. From Parents to Parents: Want to Raise Successful Children?
